

Unchecked Exceptions a.k.a Runtime Exceptions

- these need not be handled
- developer is not forced to write any exception handling code

Checked Exceptions

- developer is forced to write exception handling code
- they become evident at compile time itself
- can be easily identified by the API